

Getting Started with a Health Advantage HSA

Here's how to open and get started with a Health Advantage HSA from Optum

Start a Savings Plan for Your Health

Congratulations. By enrolling in your company's high-deductible health plan you become eligible to open and save in a Health Advantage health savings account (HSA) from Optum BankSM, Member FDIC. Here is some information about how an HSA works and directions for getting started.

What is an HSA?

Think of an HSA as a savings plan for health care you'll need today, tomorrow and into the future. It works like a regular bank account, but you don't pay federal income tax on the money you deposit. When you use your HSA money to pay for qualified medical expenses, you won't pay income taxes on the money, either. You even build your savings into a nest egg for retirement.

Unlike a flexible spending account (FSA), your savings grow from year to year. There's no "use it or lose it" rule. The money is there when you need it. And it's yours to keep.

Why have an HSA?

An HSA simply helps you plan, save and pay for health care.

You own it.

The money belongs to you, even deposits made by others, such as an employer or family member. You keep it, even if you change jobs or health plans.

It has triple tax benefits.

- Money deposited is federal income-tax free.
- Savings grow tax-free.
- Withdrawals made for qualified expenses are also income-tax free.

Anyone can contribute.

You, your employer or a loved-one. There are no restrictions on who can put money into your account.

It's not just for doctor visits.

You can use your HSA to pay for medical needs such as eyeglasses, hearing aids and qualified prescriptions. You can even use your savings to pay for other kinds of health insurance, such as COBRA, long-term care and any health plan coverage you have while receiving unemployment compensation. When you turn 65, you can use HSA savings to pay for any tax deductible health insurance (except for Medicare supplemental insurance).

You can invest it.

Once your balance reaches the investment threshold, you can begin investing in mutual funds. If you earn money on your investments, you don't pay income tax on that money, either.

You can save for the future.

By saving in an HSA, you can be ready for expenses due to illness or accident. And, after you turn 65 or enroll in Medicare benefits, you may withdraw money from your HSA for expenses that are not qualified medical expenses without penalty (although you may have to pay income taxes on the withdrawal). Save as much as you can now, and you could possibly have a nest egg when you retire.

With an HSA you can:

DEPOSIT

Deposit your health care dollars.

GROW

Grow your savings.

SAVE

Save on taxes.

PAY

Pay for health care now or later

Investments are not FDIC insured, are not guaranteed by Optum BankSM, and may lose value.

What else you need to know about an HSA

Eligibility rules apply.

To deposit money into an HSA, you must be enrolled in an HSA-eligible health plan. You are eligible if:

- You are covered under an eligible high-deductible health plan (HDHP).
- You are covered by no other health coverage, unless it is permissible coverage like vision or dental.
- You are not enrolled in Medicare.
- You cannot be claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return.

Some other restrictions apply. Please consult your tax, benefits or financial advisor.

If you switch to a health plan that makes you ineligible to continue depositing money in an HSA, you may continue to use the money in your account for qualified medical expenses, but you can no longer make deposits.

Contribution limits are determined every year by the IRS.

For 2014, you can deposit up to $3,300 if you have individual coverage and $6,550 if you have a family policy. For 2015, these limits increase to $3,350 for individuals and $6,650 for families. The IRS also allows you to make an extra catch-up deposit of $1,000 if you are 55 or older.

You can make contributions all the way up to the tax-filing deadline (usually April 15) and still get tax credit for the previous year.

It's different than a flexible spending account (FSA).

You may have had a health care FSA in the past. With an FSA, all the money you chose to contribute was available to help pay for eligible expenses on the first day of your plan year.

An HSA works differently. Money grows in your HSA as you (and maybe your employer) deposit money into it. You can only use your debit card or online bill pay for qualified expenses if you have enough money in the account to cover the cost.

While you are growing your HSA savings, you may pay for a qualified medical expense out of your pocket. You can reimburse yourself from your HSA later, after you have enough money in your account. Remember, though, that you can only reimburse yourself for qualified expenses you had after you establish your HSA.

Keep your receipts.

Save all your receipts for qualified medical expenses! If the IRS asks, you must be able to prove that you used your HSA money only to pay or reimburse yourself for qualified medical expenses. You can record the expenses you pay with your Health Advantage HSA easily with the online and mobile expense tracker system.

Paying with your HSA is easy.

- Use your Optum Payment Card to pay at the pharmacy, doctor's office or elsewhere.
- Pay your bills for qualified medical expenses online by logging in to your account at optumhealthfinancial.com.
- Pay out of pocket and reimburse yourself. You can do that by going online and using the reimbursement feature.

When should I establish my HSA?

Open your HSA as soon as you are eligible to do so. That way, you can use your HSA to pay or reimburse yourself for qualified medical expenses. You cannot use your HSA to reimburse yourself for medical expenses you had before you established your account.

Manage your account on the go

Optum gives you the resources you need to make the most of your health care dollars. You can access your Health Advantage HSA at optumhealthfinancial.com, plus you can use the Android™ or Apple® mobile app to manage your account on the go. The mobile app lets you view balance information, check account activity, upload photos of your receipts for electronic storage and more. When you have questions, our customer care professionals are available with answers.

Getting started

1. Sign up through your employer.

Check with your supervisor or benefits specialist to learn about your company's application process.

2. Start saving.

There are several ways to contribute to your account:

- Payroll deduction: If your employer allows, pre-tax dollars are taken out of your paycheck and deposited into your HSA. It's the easiest way to build your savings.
- Electronic deposits: Log on to optumhealthfinancial.com and make a deposit by transferring money from another bank account.
- Transfer or roll over funds: If you already have an HSA, you can roll over or transfer funds from that account into your Health Advantage HSA. Some restrictions apply. Find more information and a rollover/transfer form on our website.

3. Be on the lookout.

You will receive your welcome kit in the mail. Within seven to 10 days, your Optum Payment Card will arrive by mail in a separate unmarked envelope for your safety and security.
