

Planning for retirement with an HSA

Health care expenses are one of the top financial worries in retirement — especially for people with health conditions. As you're planning for the future, think about how your Optum Bank[®] health savings account (HSA) can help ease your mind and prepare you for retirement by saving money tax-free.

Wondering how much you might need to save?

Good question. Here are the current health savings recommendations for retirement:¹

Looking for a personalized estimate? Take the Optum Health Savings Checkup at healthsavingscheckup.com. Answer a few questions about your health, your HSA activity and retirement goals, and you will receive a personalized snapshot of your potential health care expenses in retirement. You'll also get ideas to help you stay healthy, spend less and save more.

Investing with an HSA

Once your HSA reaches the investment threshold, you may choose to invest a portion of your HSA dollars in mutual funds. Any investment earnings such as interest or dividends are income tax free. This gives you the potential to grow your HSA retirement savings even more.

Catch-up contributions

Once you turn 55, you can contribute an additional $1,000 each year to your HSA, called a catch-up contribution. If you and your spouse are both over the age of 55, you can each contribute an additional $1,000. Your spouse will just need to open their own HSA for their additional portion.

HSAs and Medicare

The benefits of an HSA don't stop when you retire. While you are no longer allowed to contribute to your HSA after enrolling in Medicare, you can still use your HSA funds income tax free to pay for qualified medical expenses. You can also use your HSA to pay for Medicare premiums and qualified out-of-pocket expenses including deductibles, copays and coinsurance for:

- Part A (hospital and inpatient care)
- Part B (doctor and outpatient care)
- Part D (prescription drugs)

Keep in mind that Medicare does not cover hearing aids or vision, dental or nursing home care.

Withdrawing funds during retirement

You can use the money in your HSA to pay for qualified medical expenses at any time. Once you turn 65, however, you can withdraw the money from your HSA for nonqualified expenses without a penalty. You will just be required to pay ordinary income tax on that amount.
