

Investing with your HSA

Your Optum Bank® health savings account (HSA) is a smart way to pay for qualified medical expenses with significant tax advantages. But did you know that you also have the potential to grow your HSA by choosing to invest in mutual funds?

Investing basics

Once your HSA reaches the investment threshold (typically $2,000), you may choose to invest a portion of your HSA dollars in mutual funds — just like you would with a 401(k). You can choose from a wide variety of mutual funds at optumbank.com. Any investment earnings such as interest or dividends are income tax-free.

Getting started

To start investing your HSA, simply follow these steps:

1. Log in to your HSA and set up your investment account by choosing the funds you want to invest in.
2. Indicate the amount you want to transfer into your investment account. The minimum amount that can be transferred at one time is $100. Therefore, you will typically need to have a balance of $2,100 in your HSA before you are eligible to invest (assuming a $2,000 investment threshold).
3. To make things easier, you can choose to set up recurring transfers/sweeps. This means that you choose a threshold amount, and any funds over your threshold will automatically be transferred to your investment account.

Have an unexpected medical expense?

No problem. Whenever you need additional money to pay for qualified medical expenses, you can easily transfer your investment funds back into your HSA.

Asset Allocation Calculator

If you choose to invest some of your HSA money, deciding which mutual funds to invest in can be overwhelming. The Asset Allocation Calculator can help you understand how to potentially distribute your HSA funds, and can help you decide which mutual fund elections to make based on asset class. Be sure to discuss with your financial advisor whether investing the money in your HSA is right for you.
